

CÉCILE VAN DIJK

Costume Designer

Since 2001 Cécile Van Dijk has been working within the Film, Television and Live Performance industry, designing costumes for feature length, short films, music videos and commercials. Additionally to being a designer, she has been working as head-cutter, supervisor and assistant costume designer with, amongst others, oscar winning designer Michael O'Connor (on "The Duchess", "Suite Francaise" and "Tulip Fever"), Michael Kaplan (on "Star Wars VIII: The Last Jedi") and more recently director Paul Thomas Anderson (on "Phantom Thread" and "Anima").

Drawing on her extensive skills set and experience, Cécile has proven to be a great team leader as she understands the technicalities of costume construction as well as the intricacies of planning a project and running tight deadlines.

She studied at London's Central Saint Martins School of Art & Design and the London College of Fashion. After graduating she went on to work in Film, Television, Theatre and as a BA (Hons) Design for Performance and Practice visiting tutor at Central Saint Martins.
